EXPERIENCE

McGraw Hill, Columbus, OH

Operations and Communications Manager, Learning Design Operations November 2021 – August 2025

Managed initiatives such as McGraw Hill Style Guide and Intentional Language and Sensitive Topic Content Guide, MetaMetrics licensing, Chicago Manual of Style updates, and Academic Integrity Training. Oversaw customer-sensitive inquiry process, and monitored general customer communication across disciplines.

- Collaborated with the Agile Transformation team as the Operations and Communications Lead, maintaining and updating the Agile Playbook to ensure teams had access to the most current resources, trainings, practices, and guidelines to improve product fit and efficiencies, and increase predictability.
- Supported Academic Design Operations by streamlining processes throughout the product development cycle with a broad spectrum of stakeholders.
- Collaborated with academic design teams to implement efficient processes supporting academically and educationally sound content.
- Led Study Guide Committee, supporting internal mailbox inquiries related to culturally sensitive imagery, intentional language, and updated content to promote academic integrity.
- Led and tracked over 100 sensitive customer inquiry responses annually by collaborating across cross-functional teams and securing executive leadership approval to uphold brand reputation and ensure academic integrity across programs.
- Facilitated and tracked 12–15 Academic Integrity trainings annually for approximately 300 employees per year—reaching over 1,800 employees over several years—through both live and online formats.
- Enhanced employee knowledge on market context, adoption requirements, and open territory opportunities; covered cross-industry standards, ethical guidelines, and academic excellence tools such as Style Guides, the Cultural Competency Framework, and academic inquiry processes.
- Provided leadership and strategic support to DEI-focused groups, including the School Equity Council, Equity Advisory Board, and Women’s Leadership Initiative (WLI), fostering inclusive collaboration across committees.
- Served on the Executive committee of Toastmasters as the VP of Membership, enhancing member engagement and driving organizational growth; completed Strategic Relationships Pathway.
- Coordinated meeting logistics by setting agendas, delivering updates, and documenting detailed notes to ensure actionable follow-up and committee effectiveness.
